

Application for Plant Biology and Conservation Travel Award

The Graduate Program in Plant Biology and Conservation offers awards of up to $500 for travel expenses related to attending professional conferences and workshops. These may include costs for the travel to the location, conference registration fee, and accommodations. Preference will be given to applicants who have not previously received this award.

Application deadline: 2 months before the conference or workshop

Completed applications include:

1. This form
2. A detailed budget (i.e., cost of registration, airfare or mileage if driving, accommodation costs. Please note, direct gas expenses will be reimbursed, rather than the standard mileage reimbursement. So estimate gas expenses and save receipts.)

Completed applications should be e-mailed to:

Nyree Zerega (nzerega@chicagobotanic.org)
